PART 1 – All Club Members

This Part 1 tells all club members about what the club has to offer them, and also what is expected from them as club members.

1.1 General

Bromsgrove Boaters had its first meeting in November 1984, and chartered its first yacht for a weekend cruise in March 1985. Since then the club has grown in numbers and also in what it provides for its members. “Boaters”, as the club is often now called, exists for the purpose of providing:

- Social events for anyone interested in yacht cruising (or just in being sociable!)
- Sailing opportunities for those who wish to participate in yacht cruising
- Training courses for those who wish to develop their sailing skills and qualifications.

We hope the club, and its members, will be welcoming and friendly; whether you wish to participate in any one, or all, of these activities.

A committee, elected from volunteers within the club membership, plans and organises the day-to-day activities of the club as well as undertaking key projects aimed at improving the running of the club and the services provided to club members. Please feel free to talk to any committee member if you have any ideas or views about the club. Minutes of committee meetings are available for all club members to view on the club’s WebCollect system (see below).

At the Annual General Meeting in November 2015, club members approved an updated Constitution and, at a Special General Meeting in July 2016, they approved the creation of a Company limited by guarantee to undertake the club’s business in order to limit the liability of individual club members in the event of a significant un-insured claim against the club. Bromsgrove Boaters Limited was registered by Companies House on 20th September 2016 under company number 10385809 and, for the duration of each club year, the committee members elected at the Annual General Meeting become the Directors of BB Ltd. The updated Constitution became the Articles of Association of BB Ltd, which govern how the club is run. A copy is included in Appendix A of this Handbook.

Annual subscriptions are due on the 6th January each year, and cover membership for the calendar year. Members who are late in paying will be chased, and those who remain unpaid on 6th March will be considered to have let their membership lapse, will be removed from the Membership List, and will not be able to participate in any club activities (other than as a Visitor to Wednesday evening social events upon payment of the Visitors Fee). Lapsed members may, of course, re-join the club at any time upon payment of the annual subscription.

The club uses the WebCollect online system for booking and paying for sailing events, training courses, and other events, and also for managing membership records including details of members’ qualifications and sailing experience. WebCollect can be accessed at <https://webcollect.org.uk/boaters> or via the club website.

The club website is www.bromsgroveboaters.co.uk

The club has a Facebook group; simply search for “Bromsgrove Boaters”

And you can follow Boaters on Twitter “@BromsgroveBoats”

1.2 Social Events

Boaters holds social events every third Wednesday evening of the month (except in December when the Annual Photo Competition is held on the second Wednesday). These meetings are held at the clubhouse of Bromsgrove Rugby Club, Finstall Road, Bromsgrove B60 3DH. Members congregate from 7:30pm onwards, and the meetings proper start promptly at 8:00pm (8 bells of the Second Dog Watch).

Wednesday evening social meetings, even those with high-profile speakers, are free to club members; the exception being the Summer Garden Party when a small additional charge is made to cover food and drink. Non-members are welcome to attend any of the social evenings, as a guest of a members and upon payment of the Visitors Fee which is currently £5 per meeting.

All those attending, whether members or visitors, are requested to sign-in in the attendance book.

The social evenings include external speakers, talks from club members, and events such as Quiz Night, Photo Competition, and the club's Annual General Meeting. External speakers have included such luminaries of the sailing world as Chay Blyth, Claire Francis, Lisa Clayton, Tony Bullimore and Tom Cunliffe, as well as entertaining and informative talks from Marine Accident Investigation Branch, Jeckells Sails, English Braids, RYA, and RNLI. Ideas for new speakers are always welcome, especially if you have an inside contact!

When we have internal speakers or external speakers who do not charge a fee, a donation from club funds is normally made to a charity of the speaker's choice, and members attending may be invited to contribute also. Of course, there is no obligation on any member to contribute.

The programme of social events planned for the current year, as well as sailing events and training courses, is shown on the Events Programme which is updated and circulated to members regularly, and can be found on the club website.

The club's Social Events Secretary can be contacted at functionscoordinator@bromsgroveboaters.co.uk

1.3 Sailing

Boaters organises a number of sailing events which are open to all club members, whether or not they have previous sailing experience. All persons sailing must:

- provide an update of their sailing qualifications and experience with their application to participate, in order that the Cruising Secretary and Skipper are aware of their capabilities and limitations (this update can be done on WebCollect),
- before the trip starts, advise the Skipper of any health conditions and medication required (this can be inside a sealed envelope to be opened only if necessary),
- be registered and fully paid-up members of the club prior to sailing, in order to be covered by the club's insurance.

Complete novices can participate, as can guests of club members (provided they first become club members), as long as they comply with these requirements. On these social sailing weekends, crew members old and new are encouraged to get involved in all aspects of sailing the boat whilst learning from our more experienced skippers and mates.

The club does not employ professional skippers and mates for the purposes of Boaters sailing events; these roles are undertaken by suitably experienced and qualified members of the club on an entirely voluntary basis. See Part 2 of this Handbook for further information on Skippers and Mates.

Sailing locations are chosen by the club's Skippers, and we regularly charter boats on the Solent out of Hamble and from Plymouth, and less frequently from Pembroke, the East Coast and other venues.

The different sailing events are:

Spring Sailing Weekends

These run from Friday morning (normally crew spend Thursday night aboard) to Sunday afternoon, on specific weekends determined by the Cruising Secretary. Those club Skippers and Mates who wish to sail notify the Cruising Secretary, who then charters the appropriate number of boats on behalf of the club and assembles crews from the list of club members wishing to sail. These events are, therefore, covered by the club's insurance.

Crews are put together by the Cruising Secretary to ensure a good mix of skills and experience. We ensure that wives and partners sail together (at least, those who want to...). This approach gives members, particularly those new to the club, an early opportunity to get afloat, meet a variety of members and arrange further trips during the sailing season.

Skippers have the final word on agreeing their crew, since they will be responsible for the safety of the boat and crew, and must be content that their crew is 'balanced' with sufficient experience, stamina, and agility.

Summer Cruises

Normally lasting 7 to 10 days, and organised entirely by the Skipper selecting his/her crew from those club members who wish to participate, and chartering the boat himself/herself. These events may not be covered by the club's insurance unless the chartering is organised and paid for by the club.

The longer duration allows for greater exploration of a cruising area, or for a longer passage such as cross-channel to France or to Ireland.

Autumn Sailing Weekends

These run from Friday morning to Sunday afternoon, on specific weekends determined by the Cruising Secretary, just like Spring Weekends, and are run identically to the Spring weekends except that Skippers may organise and/or select their own crew, subject to the agreement of the Cruising Secretary in respect of the 'balance' of the crew's skills and abilities.

Other sailing events

Additionally, some club skippers arrange further sailing events during the year, which the club encourages and promotes for the participation of other club members whenever possible. Generally these events will NOT be covered by the club's insurance.

Owned boats and other providers

Some club members own their own boats and make places on their sailing trips available to others including, but not necessarily exclusively, other club members. Additionally, from time to time, the club committee becomes aware of sailing opportunities provided by organisations or individuals who are not club members. The club encourages all opportunities for club members to get afloat, and is happy to assist in advertising such opportunities to club members, but the club takes no part in organising such events, cannot take account of them within its Safety Policy, and they are NOT covered in any way by the club's insurance.

Costs and liabilities

All Boaters sailing trips are operated on a shared responsibility basis, with all members on board sharing liability for all costs and charges incurred during the event such as fuel, mooring fees, victualing etc. This specifically also applies to the security deposit, any loss of deposit will be shared equally between all members on board regardless of how caused.

Requirements for a sailing event to be covered by the club's insurance

For a sailing event to be covered by the club's insurance and therefore be considered as being a "Boaters event" it is necessary that:

- The skipper and mate must be "listed" by the committee, including full compliance with the current pre-requisites for being "listed" as a club skipper and mate,
- All crew must be paid-up members of the club,
- The committee must be satisfied that the overall crew is "balanced" in terms of having sufficient experience, capability, stamina and agility for the proposed cruise / passage,
- The charter must be booked and the charter cost paid for by the Cruising Secretary or his delegate (who may be a skipper with specific written authority from the Cruising Secretary) on behalf of the club, rather than by the skipper himself (although the security deposit will separately be the responsibility of the skipper, mate and crew rather than the club),
- All crew, including skipper and mate, must book and pay for their share of the charter cost (including any booking charges, as prescribed by the committee) through the club's booking process, rather than to the skipper himself.

Provided that these criteria are complied with, the club encourages skippers and members to organise their own sailing events as "Boaters events".

The programme of sailing events planned for the current year, as well as social events and training courses, is shown on the Events Programme which is updated and circulated to members regularly, and can be found on the club website.

The club's Cruising Secretary can be contacted at cruising@bromsgroveboaters.co.uk

1.4 Training

For those club members wishing to develop their sailing skills and gain recognised qualifications, the club organises a number of relevant courses including:

- RYA Short Range Certificate (marine VHF radio)
- RYA Radar
- RYA First Aid
- RYA Diesel Engine
- Sea Survival
- Day Skipper theory
- Coastal Skipper / Yachtmaster theory

The club is an RYA Training Centre and provides some of these courses 'in-house' whilst others are 'bought-in' from external providers. For club members, courses are charged on a 'not for profit' basis.

The club also organises on-the-water Boat Handling Skills training, using RYA Training providers such as Hamble School of Yachting.

The programme of training courses planned for the current year, as well as social events and sailing events, is shown on the Events Programme which is updated and circulated to members regularly, and can be found on the club website.

Library: The club has a large selection of books (both instructional and narrative) and instructional DVDs which are available for free loan to members. Donations of books and DVDs on nautical topics are always welcome and gratefully received. See Appendix D for a copy of the Library List, the latest version of which can be found on the club website.

The club's Training Coordinator can be contacted at training@bromsgroveboaters.co.uk

1.5 Health & Safety

The club has a nominated Safety Officer, and the club's current Health and Safety policy is included with Appendix B of this document. It is important to note that Health and Safety is central to all activities undertaken by the club and it is the responsibility of each and every member to ensure activities and events are completed in a safe manner.

1.6 Insurance

The club has public liability and indemnity insurance which is intended to cover claims made against the club resulting from a proven negligent act by a member of the club while participating in an activity organised by the club. The cover is up to £5m any one claim.

It is important to note that the club's insurance does not generally cover losses, damage, or injury to club members or their possessions. Club members should consider whether their own insurances provide such cover as they may require. Club members who sail should consider the specific insurance policy discussed in Part 2 of this Handbook.

Events organised by the club (generally meaning that the club itself has contracted with and paid the charter company, training provider, venue owner, etc) have the cover of the club's insurance, but some other events may merely be advertised by the club yet be organised by others (such as individual skippers or external training providers paid directly by members), and the club's insurance does not provide any cover for such events.

Since the club's insurance covers only club members, it is important that all those participating in club events are fully-paid-up and registered members of the club. This is particularly important for the club's sailing events, which is why 'guests' are required to become club members before participating in a club sailing event. The exception, because of its relatively low risk, is club social evenings to which Visitors are welcome.

A copy of the club's current insurance policy can be downloaded either from the club website or from WebCollect.

1.7 Terms and Conditions of Booking Boaters Events

Bookings for services or events cannot be cancelled and are refundable only in exceptional circumstances. The Club may attempt to re-sell a booking on your behalf but only if the event is otherwise fully booked. In the event of a reimbursement being due to you it will be made using the same means of payment as you used for the initial transaction, unless you and the Club agree otherwise.

If the charter company or service provider refuses to cancel and refund an event booked by the Club but agrees to re-scheduling the service or event to another date, the Club will offer the re-scheduled event to those who have booked, but will not offer any refund.

The Club has the right to cancel a service but will only do so due to reasons outside of its control or if there are insufficient bookings to make the service viable. If the Club does cancel a service it will notify you as soon as possible and it will reimburse to you all payments received from you, without undue delay and in any event not later than 14 days from the day that it cancels the service.

PART 2 – Club Skippers & Mates

This Part 2 is primarily of interest to club members who are on the list of Club Skippers & Mates, or who aspire to be on that list. However it is also recommended reading for club members who sail, because it gives an insight into the role of the Skippers & Mates under whose command they sail.

2.1 Getting onto (and coming off of) the Skippers & Mates list

When the club (as opposed to individual skippers) organises a sailing event, the skipper and mate of all boats are required to have been formally recorded by the committee onto the list of Club Skippers and Mates.

Being the UK governing body for sailing, the RYA is best placed to determine the competence of a skipper and, therefore, the criteria determined by the club committee for inclusion on the club's lists are based on RYA qualifications as follows:

Club Skippers must have achieved at least:

- RYA Coastal Skipper / Yachtmaster Theory
- RYA Coastal Skipper Practical (Tidal)
- RYA First Aid (within the last 3 years) or equivalent
- RYA Short Range Certificate (marine VHF radio)
- 800nm
- 12 night hours
- and also have skippered a sailing yacht within the past two years.

(This being the minimum prerequisite for RYA Yachtmaster Coastal)

Club Mates must have achieved at least:

- RYA Day Skipper Theory
- RYA Day Skipper Practical (Tidal)
- RYA First Aid (in date) or equivalent
- RYA Short Range Certificate (marine VHF radio)
- and also have crewed a sailing yacht within the past two years.

Any club member who has these qualifications and wants to be included on the list as an active Skipper or Mate for the club, can contact the Cruising Secretary with copies of their relevant certificates and logbook, for the club committee to ratify and update the list. Skippers newly appointed to the list will be presented with their club burgee at the next AGM, which they should fly during club sailing events.

Notwithstanding their having achieved the abovementioned criteria (at the time of undertaking the relevant RYA examination), skippers and mates are themselves solely responsible for maintaining their competence so that they can safely discharge their responsibilities. Skippers and mates should request to be removed from the club's list as soon as they consider themselves to no longer have the competence, ability, health, or agility to safely continue in the role. Otherwise, considering these factors, the committee may at any time and at its sole discretion remove a skipper or mate from the club's list.

2.2 Organisation of Bromsgrove Boaters sailing events (by Skippers and by Cruising Secretary)

See section 1.3 above for a description of the various sailing events organised by the club and/or its members, including criteria for a sailing event to be covered by the club's insurance and considered to be a "Boaters event".

If a listed club Skipper wishes to organise a charter with a crew of his or her choice, and have it classified as a Boaters event under cover provided by the club's insurance, the skipper and all his crew must make their bookings and payments via WebCollect (this can be arranged by liaising with the Cruising Secretary) before the club will make the financial commitment of making any payment to the charter company.

Prior to any Boaters sailing event, the Committee will issue a notification to the skipper authorising him or her to charter the boat (or a suitable replacement) on behalf of the club.

2.3 Skipper's role

2.3.1. Chartering

On all Boaters sailing events the Cruising Secretary (or his delegate, who may be the skipper with specific written authority from the Cruising Secretary), will book and pay for the boat on behalf of the club. The skipper will then take over responsibility for the event and will liaise with the charter in regard to timings for arrival, collection, signing of charter agreements as required and payment of the security deposit.

The skipper will also complete the handover process with the charterer, prior to taking over the boat for the charter period.

2.3.2. Weather

In the case of inclement or unsuitable weather conditions being forecast, the skipper will liaise with the charterer and they will make the final decision as to whether to proceed with the charter, based on both their experience and the overall competence of the crew.

2.3.3. Planning & organisation

The Skipper is responsible for all aspects of planning and preparation for the event (although they may choose to delegate some aspects to members of the crew, such as provisioning or preparation of meals).

The skipper will typically liaise with the crew in advance to determine their experience and expectation for the event, dietary requirements, equipment requirements (foul weather gear for example which can typically be hired from charterers) and will also co-ordinate travel plans to/from the charter location.

The skipper is required to prepare a passage plan for the event taking into account the prevailing weather conditions, tides, characteristics of the boat, crew experience and capabilities, the skipper will also prepare back-up plans and options.

2.3.4. On board

Once on-board the skipper will familiarise themselves with all aspects of the vessel, including location and operation of all safety equipment on-board, engine, through hull fittings and the sailing controls, this will typically be completed in conjunction with the mate. Once provisions and personal kit are stowed, the skipper will complete a briefing for the crew covering both the safety on-board and the plans for the event. Throughout the event the skipper will remain in charge, monitoring all aspects of the operation of the boat and the wellbeing of the crew, at any time the skipper may decide to change plans and at all times their decision is final.

2.3.5. After the event

The skipper will be responsible for returning the boat to charterer at the agreed time, refuelling and cleaning if required and for completing the handover process back to the charterer. Should any damage or breakages have occurred, the skipper should advise the charterer of this, they should also advise of any concerns in regard to fixtures/fittings of the boat – worn sheets, sail damage, odd engine noises etc.

Skippers are required to provide a brief report to the Cruising Secretary after all club sailing events covering:

- Any notifiable Incidents, accidents and near misses
- Boat faults or charter problems
- A very brief summary of the route, miles covered, and any underlying factors or decisions.

2.4 Mate's role on board

The primary role of the mate on board is to support the skipper in the safe operation of the boat and the skipper may often delegate tasks/actions to the mate. The mate may also be involved in the planning process, assisting the skipper and also building their own skills and experience.

Should the skipper become incapacitated for any reason, the mate must be ready and able to take over all aspects of the operation of the boat and return the vessel to safe point of refuge. On longer passages the mate will typically act as a watch leader managing the boat whilst the skipper is off watch.

2.5 Health & Safety

Although the skipper is in charge, safety on board a sailing vessel is everyone's responsibility and to that end, it is essential that the all crew members are familiar with the safety systems and procedures on a given boat. Prior to departure, the skipper will provide a full safety briefing to the crew (sample briefing guidelines are included with Appendix C of this document) and may also assign specific roles to crew members in the event on an emergency.

The club strongly recommend that life jackets are worn at all times whilst the boat is underway, at night or in restricted visibility it is also recommended that lifelines be worn on deck at all times.

Within the limited confines of a boat, hygiene is an important concern, crew should be reminded of the use/operation of the heads and the importance of washing hands before handling or preparing food.

Crew members must advise the skipper of any medical conditions they may have and also any medication that may be required to treat these conditions (and where this medication is located). The skipper should also advise the mate of this information, but otherwise should be treated confidentially.

2.6 Insurance

Although the club's insurance provides some cover as discussed in Part 1, the varied risks inherent in sailing could result in all crew members, and particularly skippers and mates, becoming exposed to claims for loss, damage or injury. And, of course, the club's insurance provides no cover whatsoever when sailing events are not organised by the club itself, as may be the case when a club skipper organises his own crew and charters a boat, even if the crew are all club members and the event is known to the club committee.

For this reason all persons who sail, and particularly skippers and mates, should consider whether their own insurances provide such cover as they may require and, if necessary, should consider taking out insurance specifically to cover risks associated with sailing. Such specific insurance is understood to be available from companies including Topsail, Noble Marine, and others.

PART 3 – Club Committee / Board of Directors

This Part 3 is primarily of interest to club members who are, or wish to be, on the committee as directors of BB Ltd. However it is available to all club members to enable them to understand how the committee operates, and the policies that the committee applies in running the club.

3.1 General

The election of club members onto the committee and the conduct of the committee in general are described within the club's Articles of Association (see Appendix A of this Handbook). The various Officers and supporting roles are allocated by consensus of the committee members, at the first committee meeting after election of the committee, according to who is willing and suitable for each role. In order to share the workload and responsibilities for running the club, every committee member is expected to take one of the nine primary roles; there is no room for 'passengers' on the committee.

B. The club's Health and Safety Policy

Bromsgrove Boaters – Health & Safety Policy Statement

Safety is of fundamental importance to us all. Participants in club activities have the right to expect that the Committee / Board of Directors will make events as safe as reasonably practicable by exercising skill and judgement. Accidents are always regrettable, frequently costly and sometimes disastrous. Safety protects people and equipment and is vital for the enjoyment of recreational boating.

Accordingly, the provision of safe procedures and practices is a primary objective for our club. In striving to meet this objective, the Committee / Board of Director has resolved to:

- Affirm its ownership of safety and provide clear guidance and oversight of safety issues covering all types of Club activity;
- Ensure that committee members, Skippers and other club members are provided with clearly defined responsibilities, authority and accountability in respect to safety issues;
- Actively promote and develop the culture of continuous safety improvement within all Club activities; and
- Enhance the Club's systems and procedures for monitoring and improving safety.

The Committee / Board of Directors will do our utmost to implement these resolutions and ensure that adequate resources are provided to manage safety effectively and to make appropriate training available for club members and especially Skippers.

We recognise that realistically, we can never eliminate risk completely without terminating our activities. Nevertheless, we will strive to identify and deal with safety hazards in an appropriate way in order to constrain the risks they pose to a level that is justifiable, tolerable and as low as possible. In doing so, we will review, scrutinise and assess our own operating procedures and internal control documents regularly.

In addition, we will encourage accident and incident reporting in order to evaluate them, learn from them and to share any lessons learned; we will amend our own safety documentation and practices as necessary.

All Bromsgrove Boaters Skippers understand that they have a duty to establish safe procedures and practices for their boating and to work continuously to promote safety among all Bromsgrove Boater's members. We expect our volunteer Skippers to lead by example. In turn, we all expect every individual Member to take personal responsibility for their own safety and actions at every level of activity.

Key elements in delivering this Health and Safety Policy are the:

- Role and responsibilities of the Safety Officer (as detailed in 3.2.9)

E. What to Take Sailing, a First Timers Guide

Sailing in UK waters can be wet and cold and it is best to be prepared. Ideally wear lots of thin layers of clothing topped with a waterproof layer. The trapped air between layers provides additional insulation and if an item of clothing becomes wet it can easily be removed and replaced. If particularly inclement weather is forecast, specialised foul weather gear is undoubtedly best and most charter companies provide a hire service. Storage space on boats is extremely limited so try to get all your kit (with the possible exception of boots and waterproofs) into one medium-sized holdall, which can be folded flat when empty and easily stored out of the way. The following list should suffice for a weekend:

For use ON DECK:

- Waterproof jacket and trousers or specialist sailing waterproofs (can typically be hired from charterers)
- Easy to dry warm trousers (Jeans not recommended – cold when wet then difficult to dry)
- 2 x Fleeeces or warm sweaters
- 1 pair Wellingtons (clean) or sea boots. White or non-marking soles preferable
- 1 pair deck shoes, trainers or plimsolls for fair-weather sailing and trips ashore.
- 4 pairs thick socks
- 3 T-shirts (or long-sleeved shirts for the less hardy)
- Thermal underwear (for cold conditions) + Normal underwear (for the good days!)
- Hat and Gloves (the extremities get very cold very quickly)
- Sailing gloves to protect hands while handling warps, halyards and sheets.
- Sunglasses + peaked cap (also very useful in winter)
- Sun tan lotion + lip balm

For use DOWN BELOW:

- Sleeping bag + pillow (not usually provided on UK charters) + nightwear
- Toiletries (including soap) + Towel (The new quick-drying ones are worth the investment)
- Hand torch
- Small personal first-aid kit – (elastoplasts etc.) and any personal medication.

Miscellaneous:

- Purse or wallet
- Beer or wine according to your taste (or the skipper's)
- Some of your favourite snacks or choc bars for munching while sailing.
- Camera (remember Boaters' Annual Photo Competition)
- Mobile phone (calls to shore-bound loved ones are appreciated)
- iPad or Netbook (to while away the off-watch hour)

Please Note: - If you have a medical condition please put details of condition, emergency treatment, medication and a contact phone number (surgery or family) in a sealed envelope and give to skipper on arrival. It will only be opened in an emergency and will be returned to you unopened on departure.

F. On-board Safety Briefing (two examples of many)

Before giving your crew a safety briefing, it is worth considering the specific circumstances of the planned trip, the experience of the crew and their familiarity with the vessel and each other.

If the crew already know the drill inside out and you know each other well, then the safety briefing can be limited to a discussion of the passage plan for the day, when and how you plan to leave the berth and the watch-keeping rotas.

If a crew does not fully understand the safety drill and does not know where the safety equipment can be found on board, then you will need to brief them on this before departure. It is a good idea to have a safety briefing checklist at hand so you can go through everything in detail. The items to cover include location of safety equipment, use of gas stoves, what to do in the event of fire, actions for man overboard and abandoning ship. Ensure that at least one of the crew in addition to yourself can operate the radio and knows the routine for sending distress signals. Also, remember to ask the crew if any of them are on medication and give out seasickness tablets if necessary.

If you have very young or novice crew aboard, then have a quiet run through with them and leave nothing to chance. The secret here is not to alarm inexperienced crew in any way and to reassure them that the boat is not going to heel over and sink as soon as it leaves the harbour.

Keep a positive attitude and don't dwell on the likelihood of gas explosions, but on the great time everyone is going to have out on the water.
